Volunteers Sought to Help With Outer Banks Seafood Festival

Nags Head, N.C. – Outer Banks Seafood Festival organizers are seeking volunteers to help with the October 17th event.

Volunteers are essential to the event's success. From site set-up to ticket sales, beverage service, trash management, clean-up and more, volunteers play an important role in welcoming thousands of locals and visitors to the event.

A volunteer sign-up form on the website www.outerbanksseafoodfestival.org allows individuals and groups to see what volunteer support is needed.

Non-Profit Groups are welcome to review the opportunities and sign up with the minimum requested number of volunteers and be eligible for honorariums for their service to the festival. Honorariums range from $200 - $500 depending on the volunteer job and number of volunteers needed. Proof of non-profit status is needed to confirm participation. Please visit the website at outerbanksseafoodfestival.org for information regarding these opportunities or email volunteers@outerbanksseafoodfestival.org for more information.

Individuals can use the form or send an e-mail of interest to volunteers@outerbanksseafoodfestival.org. All volunteers will receive a "crew" t-shirt for their service to the festival. Those with questions, can call 252-732-0373.

The mission of the Outer Banks Seafood Festival is to provide a fun and educational experience promoting, honoring and celebrating our coastal seafood heritage and community. The 2015 Outer Banks Seafood Festival is presented by TowneBank and the Outer Banks Visitors Bureau and will be held on Saturday, October 17th at The Soundside event site in Nags Head.

For more information about the Festival, visit outerbanksseafoodfestival.org.
